EXPLANATORY NOTES AND ADDITIONAL COMMITMENT ON TARIFFS

1) Upon accession, all applied rates are either bound at the October 1, 1997 MFN rates or reduced according to the schedule in Annex XX to the draft Protocol.

2) The base rate from which tariffs will be reduced is the October 1, 1997 MFN rate for all items, except those without a simple ad valorem duty on October 1, 1997. Such excepted items are subject to base rates of 1996 MFN.

3) All tariff reductions will be made in equal annual reductions. ~~The only exception will be for~~ textile and apparel items subject to the 1996 Agreement Between the United States and Peoples Republic of China Concerning Trade in Textile and Apparel Products, ~~where~~ the Agreement will be followed until the bound rates specified in the Agreement are reached in 2001. On January 1, 2002, the first tranche of equal annual reductions will be made from those bound rates until the end date determined by the General Formula in Attachment A. FOR Autos and Auto Parts reductions shall be as provided in attachment E

4) The reduced rate in each stage will be rounded to the nearest tenth (first decimal).

5) To calculate the end date for the staging of reductions, apply the General Formula as described in Attachment A to all products except those products specified below. End dates for the products specified below will be as follows:

- A.1 For items in Chapters 28 through 39, apply the Chemical Formula as described in Attachment A.
- A.2 For chemical products with duty reductions of more than 13 points which do not meet the harmonization rate of the Chemical Tariff Harmonization Agreement, the end date will be 2005.
- A.3 For chemical products with duty reductions of more than 13 points which meet the harmonization rate of the Chemical Tariff Harmonization Agreement, the end date will be 2006.
- A.4 For the thirty-four chemical products in Attachment B, the end date is 2008.
- A.5 The seventeen chemical products chapters 2901 and 2902 in Attachment C, Part I, will not be subject to the Chemical Formula, but will have an end date of 2005.
- A.6 The six chemical products in Attachment C, Part II, will not be subject to the Chemical Formula, but will have an end date of 2003.

B. Apply the Information Technology Agreement (ITA) Formula in Attachment A to products in Attachment D.

C. Newsprint (HS1996 48010000) will be subject to an end date of tariff reductions of 2008 and reductions will be made from the 1996 MFN rate of 15%.

6) For items in the ITA schedule in Attachment C that China determines, based on advice from the WTO Secretariat, are not covered in whole or in part under the ITA and are thus not necessarily subject to a duty elimination, the United States has the right to review and negotiate additional tariff reductions.

- 7) China will include the following commitment in the Working Party Report: "China confirms that it has no tariff lines for completely knocked-down kits for motor vehicles or semi-knocked down kits for motor vehicles. If China creates such tariff lines, the tariff rates will be no more than 10%. The Working Party took note of this commitment."
- 8) China will include the following commitment in the Working Party Report: "China stated its support for the ongoing Early Voluntary Sectoral Liberalization program initiated in the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation Forum (APEC) and now under consideration in the WTO. Without prejudice to its rights to participate in the WTO process, China will participate fully in the sectoral tariff liberalization programs that WTO Members accept for implementation. The Working Party took note of this commitment."
- 9) China will include the following commitment in the Working Party Report: "China confirmed that imports from the United States of paper and wood products into China will be subject to the same tariff rates as imports from other countries, even if those countries are receiving WTO-consistent preferential rates. The Working Party took note of this commitment."
- 10) Agreement on schedule in Annex XX is contingent upon verification of data on rates, staging and base rates.
